SERIES I

None of the records in this series are confidential.

SERIES II

The five sub-series listed below include confidential records. This series is available only on microfilm. The boxes have been withdrawn from the microfilm cabinet and a dummy box inserted for each of the five sub-series. The dummy box includes the title of the sub-series, the words "Confidential Until 2010" (or whatever appropriate year) and the words "See archivist for information."

Clients requesting assistance from the archivist should be asked whether they are inquiring about their own personal records. If so, the record should be printed for their inspection. Veterans have access to their own records no matter what the date.

If the client wishes to keep the pages, they can be charged to him at $1.00 per page (or the current rate for staff-made microfilm copies).

This can also be done via a written request. In such cases, the archivist should prepare a price quote and request payment before sending a record.

Schedule for Removal of Restrictions on Sub-series:

- Officers and Enlisted Men, Tennessee National Guard, 1903-1941 (Rolls 24-36)—Open in 2011
- Enlisted Men's Service Records, 1903-1949 (Roll 54)—Open in 2019

- Physical Exams, 1940-1941 (Rolls 133-135)—Open in 2011

NOTE: Records in these restricted series that are 70 years old or older may be copied for clients by the archivist.

SERIES III

This series, not divided into sub-series, includes confidential records. Both the original records and the microfilm are available at TSLA. The microfilm has been withdrawn from public use and a dummy inserted (as above). The series is filmed on rolls 136-206.

Clients should be provided access to the records according to the directions above, with these changes: The veteran should be allowed to look at the original file.

For persons other than the veteran, the archivist should look through the file and temporarily remove any documents created less than 70 years ago.

The client may request copies of pages at .25 cents each (or the current rate).

The restrictions will be removed in 2011 and the microfilm can be opened for public inspection.

SERIES IV

None of the records in this series are confidential.

SERIES V

This entire series is confidential, and cannot be completely opened until 2039. Access to the original files should be provided for the veteran, following the procedures outlined for Series III.

SERIES VII

This series is confidential and cannot be completely opened until 2017. Access to the original files should be provided for the veteran, following the procedures outlined for Series III.

Series VIII

None of the records in this series are confidential.

Location of Records

The microfilm and the original records are stored together. The microfilm has been placed in records storage boxes and labeled. At this time the records are on the 8th Floor Stack.

Historical Sketch of the Tennessee National Guard

The official military history of the State of Tennessee dates back to June 1, 1796, when President George Washington signed the Act of Congress admitting Tennessee as the sixteenth State of the Union. But the actual military history of "The Volunteer State" dates back to territorial days and the Revolutionary War.

The first recorded "call for volunteers" in Tennessee history is found in the records of Colonel John Sevier, Washington County, Tennessee Territory, on March 19, 1780. He wanted "100 good men." Two hundred answered. In 1803, by Act of the Tennessee Legislature, the Militia of Tennessee was reorganized, and the Militia of Washington County became known as the "First Tennessee Regiment."

In 1812, the "First Tennessee," under command of Colonel William Hall, was sworn into Federal service on December 10, on orders of General Andrew Jackson, and took part in the expedition to Natchez.

In 1813, the First Tennessee Infantry was called into service by Brigade Order issued by General Issac Roberts, and mobilized at Fayetteville, Tennessee, and mustered into Federal service on September 26, participating in the following battles: Talladego, Enotochopoo, Tohopeka and the Battle of New Orleans. The regiment was mustered out of Federal service May 13, 1815.

In 1818, the First Tennessee Infantry reported at Fayetteville, Tennessee under command of Colonel R. H. Dyer, and participated in numerous engagements during the Seminole War.

In 1836, the First Tennessee participated in the Second Seminole War and the Cherokee War, under command of Colonel A. M. Bradford. In June, the same year, the regiment assembled at Fayetteville, and on October 13, a battle was fought on the Withlacoochee, and another battle, on November 13, near the same place. There were also battles in the Wahoo Swamp on November 18 and 21.

It was not until the declaration of the War with Mexico in 1846 that the term "Volunteer State" became the by-word for Tennessee. A Tennessean, James K. Polk, was President. Congress issued an immediate call for 50,000 volunteers. The Tennessee quota was 2,600 but 30,000 responded. All could not be accepted. Local balloting was resorted to in order to determine which of the original volunteers would be accepted. The "campaigning" for this privilege was sharply and seriously conducted among individuals as a race for high political office. In 1814 when General Andrew Jackson was ready to march to New Orleans to fight the British under Lord Packenham, opportunities to enlist were so eagerly sought that the men paid bonuses for the privilege of volunteer service.

By an act of the 45th General Assembly in 1887, the Tennessee State Guards were reorganized, and the First Regiment became known as the First Regiment of Infantry, Tennessee National Guard. This act followed more than a century of deeds that set the standards the Tennessee National Guard looks to with pride. This organization was called into service during the Coal Creek mining strike trouble in 1892, serving six months.

In 1898, the First Tennessee Infantry was called into service, leaving Nashville on June 16, under command of Colonel W. C. Smith, for service in the Philippine Islands, arriving there in time to take part in the battle of February 4, 1899. The regiment participated in the following battles: Santa Mesa, Paco, Block House No. 14, Ilvile, Molo Jaro, Mandurraio, Oton, Nagloean and El Parde.

In 1907, the regiment was called into service during the "Night Rider" trouble at Reelfoot Lake, serving under Colonel Tatum for the emergency period of the civil disturbance.

In 1916, the First Tennessee Infantry was called into service during the Mexican Border trouble. The regiment mobilized June 26 and was mustered into Federal service in July, training for Mexican Border duty at Eagle Pass, Texas. The regiment returned and was preparing for muster out of Federal service when the World War I call was received. Colonel Harry S. Berry commanded the regiment on the border and during World War I.

On September 8, 1917, the First Tennessee Infantry was converted into a regiment of Field Artillery, equipped with 115 mm. Howitzers and officially designated by the War Department as the 115th Field Artillery. They served throughout the war and participated in engagements at St. Mihiel, Meuse-Argonne, Troyon Sector. It returned to the United States on March 27, 1919, and was mustered out of Federal service at Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia, on April 15, 1919.

The Third Tennessee Volunteers were mustered into Federal Service October 8, 1847, and placed under command of Colonel B. F. Cheatham, serving throughout the Mexican War.

The Third Union Regiment of Tennessee Infantry was organized at Flat Lick Kentucky, by Colonel Leonidas C. Houck and Lieutenant John C. Childs, in March 1862. This regiment took an active part in the Atlanta campaign of the Civil War, and in the battles before the city of Nashville. This regiment was mustered out February 23, 1865. The Third Tennessee Infantry, Militia, was to continue in existence during the Spanish-American War, and was trained by Colonel J. P. Fyffe.

In 1916, this regiment, having continued in service as Tennessee Militia, went to serve at the Mexican Border and returned in 1917 when it went into Federal service under its original designation, the Third Tennessee Infantry. Its designation was officially changed to the 117th Infantry by General Order No. 4, Headquarters, 39th Division, Camp Sevier, Greenville, South Carolina, September 12, 1917, and the regiment served as a part of the 30th Division in France, participating in Flanders, the Ypres, Lys, the Somme Offensive, the Canal Sector, and assisting in breaking the Hindenburg Line.

When the Third Tennessee was called into Federal service for World War I, this left Tennessee without any National Guard troops, consequently the Fourth Tennessee was organized, and this regiment was the only National Guard regiment of Infantry in Tennessee. At the close of World War I, the Third and Fourth Tennessee Infantry became known as the 117th Infantry.

When the Tennessee National Guard was mustered into World War I service in 1917, volunteers dominated the scene. The following major organizations available at the time were accepted for Federal service: one regiment of artillery, three regiments of infantry and four troops of cavalry.

The First Tennessee Artillery was accepted in Federal service as the 114th Field Artillery, Colonel Luke Lea commanding. The First Tennessee Infantry was converted into the 115th Field Artillery, Colonel Harry S. Berry commanding. The Second Tennessee Infantry served temporarily as the Depot Brigade under Lieutenant Colonel James A. Gleason. Later, most of the members of these regiment were transferred to the 119th and 120th North Carolina and became part of the 60th Brigade of the 30th (Old Hickory) National Guard Division that had a major role in the breaking the Hindenburg line. The Third Tennessee Infantry became the 117th Infantry, Colonel Cary F. Spence commanding. The Cavalry troops were converted into the 114th Machine Gun battalion, Major Perry Fyffe commanding. The 59th Brigade of the 30th Division was commanded by Brigadier General L. D. Tyson of Tennessee.

Tennesseans in World War I were high in battle honors with six Congressional Medals of Honor awarded.

Tennesseans have contributed their part in all the principal wars America has engaged in since her sovereignty as a nation: The Revolutionary War, 1775-1781; the second war with England, 1812-1815; the Mexican War, 1846-1848; the War Between the States, 1861-1865; the Spanish-American War, 1898, World War I, 1917-1918; World War II, 1941-1945, the Korean War, 1950-1953; and the Vietnam War from the mid 1950's and ending in 1975.

SERIES DESCRIPTION:

Tennessee National Guard, Service Record Abstracts, 1818-1916

SERIES # 1

Series # 1 of Record Group 216, Tennessee National Guard, Service Record Abstracts, 1818-1916, contains approximately 20,000 cards of abstracted service record information. This information was assembled by the Tennessee National Guard on Tennessee residents who served in the organization and who, in some instances, participated in various military operations. These operations included the Seminole Wars of 1818 and 1836 and the American Civil War.

This series spans the years 1818-1916, and is divided into the following four sub-series: Tennessee Soldiers of the Seminole War, 1818; Tennessee Soldiers of the Seminole War, 1836; United States Army Officers from Tennessee, 1861-1866; and Tennessee National Guard, 1887-1916.

The abstracts created by the Military Department were evidently taken from original documentation. Information that was considered the most important was transferred to the 4" x 6" cards and the original documentation was disposed of in an effort to deal with the increasing amount of paper documents. It is estimated from the condition of the cards that this method of record control took place before the advent of microfilm in the 1950's.

The abstracts are arranged alphabetically within each sub-series and some provide the following information on Tennessee servicemen: name, rank, enlistment date and site, company, regiment, brigade, and place of residence. Some abstracts contain only partially completed information.

The first sub-series covers the Seminole War of 1818 starting with John W. Bailey and ending with William Young. The second sub-series includes Tennessee soldiers participating in the Seminole War of 1836, starting with Benjamin B. Cannon and ending with Henderson Yoakum. Note in this sub-series that there are numerous duplications of names but with different enlistment dates occurring in June and August.

Sub-series three consists of abstracts listing Tennesseans who served as United States Army Officers during the period 1861-1866, beginning with William C. Allen and ending with Sam E. Worthington.

The fourth and largest sub-series provides a list of Tennessee servicemen who served in the Tennessee National Guard from the year it was officially organized by the Governor in 1887 to 1916. The abstracts start with the name C. D. Allen and ends with Orlando Moyer. Please note that the abstracts end with Moyer. There are no abstracts for the remainder of this sub-series.

SERIES DESCRIPTION

Tennessee State Militia and National Guard, Servicemen's Records, 1812-1958.

SERIES # 2:

Series # 2 of Record Group 216, Tennessee State Militia and National Guard Servicemen's Records, 1812-1958, consists of 130 reels of microfilm of images of original documents that were compiled and filmed by the Tennessee Military Department early in the 1950's. According to the Records Disposition Notice at the end of each reel, the original documents were disposed of by the Military Department after they were filmed. However, during the processing of Series # 3 it was found that some original documentation filmed in Series # 2 can be found in hard copy in Series # 3. The 130 reels of microfilm are actually divided into sub-series by the following titles:

Tennessee War of 1812, Officers and Enlisted Men, microfilm rolls 6-12. Original document information was abstracted onto cards and includes Name, Rank, Enlistment, Regiment, Company, Branch of Service, Date of Discharge, Place of Residence and Remarks. The abstracts are arranged alphabetically.

Tennessee Civil War Veterans, Union Army, 1861-1865, microfilm rolls 13-20, is also abstracted onto cards and arranged alphabetically. The abstracts include Name, Rank, Age, Enlistment and Muster Dates, Regiment and Company Information plus Remarks.

Spanish American War by Regiments, microfilm rolls 21-23, is arranged by company units, then alphabetically. Information is abstracted on to cards and includes Name, Rank, Residence, Muster In Date, Place of Muster In, Place and Date of Discharge and Remarks.

Officers and Enlisted Men, Tennessee National Guard, 1900-1941, microfilm rolls 24-36, is an alphabetically arranged abstract record giving Name, Date and Place of Birth, Date and Place of Enlistment, Grade, Company and Regiment, Discharge Date, Prior Service, and Character Information.

Tennessee National Guard Enlisted Men's Service Records, 1903-1917, microfilm rolls 37-53, contains original personnel documents that have been arranged according to a decimal index system used by the military. This system assigned a decimal number to a group of documents pertaining to one individual. A key to the system is vital in order to locate an individual's documents, however, no key exists. A great deal of time and effort was spent to create an alphabetical list in order to make this sub-series usable. The list includes the microfilm roll number as well as the decimal index needed to locate an individual. You will notice in the alphabetical list that the same individual may have documents listed under more than one decimal index number. Names in parenthesis at the beginning of the list are those that were not completely readable on the microfilm or information was incomplete. To make use of the alphabetical list you will first find the name you are searching for, then go to the microfilm roll or rolls indicated and scroll to the decimal index number on that particular roll. Again, these materials came to TSLA from the Military on microfilm only and according to the information on the microfilm, the original documents were disposed of in 1952 after they were filmed.

Enlisted Men's Service Records, 1903-1949, microfilm roll #54, seems to be a group of partial records filmed out of sequence and without regard to chronological order. The information found on this roll is difficult to locate and will seem somewhat fragmented but does include some Drill Sheets, Company Rosters, Discharges, Daily Sick Reports, Arms Classification Reports, and Morning Reports.

Enlisted Men's Service Records, 1903-1917, microfilm roll #55, includes payroll records for Company A and B, 1st Infantry, and is arranged chronologically, then by Company.

Officer Service Records, 1903-1940, microfilm rolls 56-78, are original documents arranged in alphabetical order.

Officer Military and Physical Qualifications, microfilm rolls 79 and 80, are arranged in alphabetical order. The last part of roll #79 includes Inactive Officers and is alphabetical.

U. S. Army and Marine Corps, World War I, microfilm rolls 81-101, is an abstract record that is arranged alphabetically that includes information such as Name, Serial Number, Home Address, Induction Date and Place, Birthplace, Organizations, Grade and Appointment Dates, Engagements, Wounds, Overseas Service, and Discharge Date.

Navy Service Records, World War I, microfilm rolls 102-104, is an abstract record arranged alphabetically and includes Name, Service Number, Place and Date of Enlistment, Age, Rank, Home Address, Assignment Locations and Dates, and Discharge Date, Place and Rank. Some of the original records are available in this sub-series. However, the microfilm rolls contain a more complete record. When comparing the original records to the microfilm you will find that the microfilm contains more records.

Medals Awarded, World War I, microfilm roll #105, is an abstract record arranged by medal type, then alphabetically. The medal types begin with Congressional Medal of Honor and continues in order with the Distinguished Service Cross, Distinguished Service Medal, and D. S. M. In Lieu of Merit.

Enlisted Service Men's Record, 1920-1940, Tennessee National Guard, is an alphabetical arrangement of original personnel documents found on microfilm rolls 106-132.

Physical Exams, 1940-1941, Enlisted Men's Service Records, Tennessee National Guard, are arranged alphabetically and include original documents on microfilm rolls 133-135.

SERIES # 3

Officer and Enlisted Men's Service Records, 1900 - Dec. 6, 1941.

Date completed: 1-11-1999

SERIES DESCRIPTION

Series # 3 of Record Group 216, Tennessee National Guard, Adjutant General's Office, Military Records, contains officer and enlisted men's service records from 1900 through December 6, 1941. These records can contain enlistment information, physical examination reports, special orders, efficiency reports, certificates of training, requests for statements of service, and reports of separation and discharge. However, each file may contain only portions of the above mentioned information with some files yielding nothing more than an enlistment card. The utility of these documents would be for finding an individual's proof of service in the Tennessee National Guard,

Series # 3 contains one hundred one 1/2 cubic feet of records that were reduced from 107 cubic feet as a result of re-foldering and re-boxing into acid free materials. No records were discarded as a result of processing. The individual service records are arranged in alphabetical order and have been microfilmed.

MILITARY RECORDS

SERIES III

This series, not divided into sub-series, includes confidential records. Both the original records and the microfilm are available at TSLA. The microfilm has been withdrawn from public use and a dummy inserted (as above). The series is filmed on rolls 136-206.

Clients should be provided access to the records according to the directions above, with these changes: The veteran should be allowed to look at the original file.

For persons other than the veteran, the archivist should look through the file and temporarily remove any documents created less than 70 years ago.

The client may request copies of pages at .25 cents each (or the current rate).

The restrictions will be removed in 2011 and the microfilm can be opened for public inspection.

Series 6 Description

Bound Military Records 1812-1961

Date completed: 1999

This series is part of Record Group 216: Department of the Military, Tennessee National Guard, Adjutant General's Office, Military Records. The series consists of bound military records from 1812-1959. Some of these bound records are original documents and others are compilations of information taken from other records maintained by the Adjutant General's Office. The records in this series have been arranged by subseries and sub-subseries.

Subseries one consists of five volumes of records listing the names of soldiers that participated in the War of 1812 but are not original documents from 1812. They are arranged alphabetically. A note at the beginning of Book No. 1 indicates that the information in these records was compiled by the Works Progress Administration (WPA) from records of the State Library under the direction of the Adjutant General of Tennessee.

Subseries two consists of eight volumes of Civil War records. The volumes include an alphabetical listing of Tennesseans that participated in the Civil War. Book No. 1 includes the officers in alphabetical order followed by the men. This subseries is a compilation and not original records. The heading inside of the books reads, "Officers of Tennesseans U. S. Army 1861-1866," indicating that these were Union soldiers from Tennessee.

Subseries three consists of 16 volumes of Spanish-American War records of those serving in the First, Second, Third, and Fourth Tennessee Regiments of Infantry, United States Volunteers. A notation in the volumes indicates that they were called into the service of the United States by the President on April 25, 1898, and served until November 23, 1899. According to information in these volumes, these records were copied from the original Muster Out Rolls. These records were compiled by the WPA Project from 1938-1939. Volumes 15 and 16 seem to be a membership list of veterans of the Wm. C. Smith Camp #20, Spanish American War, from 1956 and 1961.

Subseries 4, Muster Rolls, includes four sub-subseries. Personal information found in these muster roll books in sub-subseries #1 through #3 includes age, place of birth, occupation, marital status, residence, and the person to notify in case of emergency. The Roll Books in sub-subseries #4 contain information that is less consistent than the information that is found in sub-subseries #1 through #3. Sub-subseries 4, Volume 1, Commissioned Officers, contains the commission certificates signed by Governor William B. Bate. Sub-subseries 4, volumes 2-6 can be considered roll books and simply contains names and daily attendance records. Sub-subseries 4, volumes 7-8 are undated and list equipment issued to individual soldiers. In sub-subseries 4, volume 9 is a compiled list of Tennesseans who lost their lives while serving in the U. S. Army, Marine Corps, and Navy. This book contains a note indicating the record was created in 1957.

Subseries 5, RG 36. Records of Ex-Servicemen in the World War, 1917-1919, is an independent record group and is listed in this finding aid for reference purposes only. A decision was made to include a listing of these volumes in the Container List of RG 216 in an effort to display a comprehensive record of the Adjutant General's records. RG 36 consists of 23 plus volumes of data from the files of Major Rutledge Smith, Chairman of National Council of Defense of Tennessee during World War I, and from the office of Joseph H. Ballew, Adjutant General of Tennessee, 1933, and from the report of General Enoch H. Crowder, Provost Marshall General, to the Secretary of War, 1917-1918. The volumes are arranged by county, although not alphabetically. The Introduction to each volume includes an index to information as follows: Selective Service Board & Legal Advisory Board, Principal Statistical Data by Local Board, Total Number of Ex-Soldiers, Index to Pages - Organizations Divided, and Key to Code Used.

Subseries 6, Record of Officers and Men, Tennessee National Guard, 1921-1941, is an alphabetical list authorized by Governor Prentice Cooper on 15 Feb. 1944. Information found in these records include name, date of birth, date of enlistment, place of enlistment, rank, company and regiment, date of discharge, prior service and remarks.

Subseries 7, Company Rosters and Descriptions, includes records of Company F and the Adjutant Generals Office. Books 1, 1905-1910, and book 2, 1903-1907, of Company F include records of equipment issued to men, transfers, discharges, men who died, and men who deserted. The Morning Reports of Company F, 1903-1909, is simply a tally of daily attendance signed by the 1st Sergeant and Company Commander. The Adjutant General's Office records include Muster Rolls and equipment issued to company units from 1885 through 1887.

Subseries 8, Orders, include Special Orders, General Orders, and certain Company Orders issued from 1880 through 1955 by the Adjutant General and certain Company Commanders of the companies listed in the Container List.

Subseries 9 contains the supply records of the Adjutant General's Office. Volume one contains the Report of Stores Issued from 1903 through 1909. Volume two, List of Equipment, contained a note stating this was the "Armorer's Report, Account of clothing turned in by NGST. Old equipment, unserviceable tents. Stores received. Inventory of State Armory. April 1899."

Subseries 10 contains the account record of the Adjutant General's Office, and Subseries 11 contains telegrams of the Adjutant General's office. Account records begin with Expenditures, 1893, and end with Record of Vouchers, 1903. The book of telegrams is from 1893-1894.

Series # 6 contains approximately 36 cubic feet in 181 bound volumes. All records were retained and have been microfilmed. There may be some restrictions on the records in this series.

Series 7 Description

Tennessee State Guard Officer Record Cards 1941-1947

CONFIDENTIAL RECORDS

Date completed: 12-13-2004

This series is part of Record Group 216: Department of the Military, Tennessee National Guard, Adjutant General's Office, Military Records. Series 7 consists of abstract cards of Tennessee State Guard officers from 1941 through 1947 and are to be treated as confidential. Cards can contain information pertaining to date of appointment, rank, home address, business address, date of birth, basic physical description, business experience, and date of enlistment.

During WWII the National Guard was federalized and the TN State Guard was organized as a replacement military force in 1941. The State Guard assisted local authorities in securing dams, railways, and other vital installations during the war. They were deactivated in 1947. In 1985 a similar unit was organized and was known as the Tennessee Defense Force. Legislation in 1998 changed the name back to the Tennessee State Guard.

The Tennessee State Guard is an element of the Military Department of the State of Tennessee. It is an all volunteer organization and has no federal mission. They are responsible only to the governor of Tennessee and the orders of the Adjutant General of Tennessee. The mission of the State Guard is to replace deployed National Guard units, custodianship of vacated armories, military facilities, and equipment left behind by departing units. The State Guard can also respond to any call by the governor for emergency state duty in the same manner that the National Guard does. The State Guard can augment the National Guard or assist the Tennessee Emergency Management Agency. Enlistment is open to all Tennessee citizens between the ages of 17 and 67, who do not have a criminal record and who are not currently enlisted in the active or reserve components of the armed forces.

THE RECORDS IN THIS SERIES ARE CONSIDERED CONFIDENTIAL.

COLLECTION SUMMARY

Creator:

Tennessee. Adjutant General's Office

Inclusive Dates:

1810-1980, bulk 1885-1916, 1936-1953

Scope & Content:

Series 8 of the Tennessee National Guard, Adjutant General's Files, 1810-[1885-1916, 1936-1953]-1980, is the final series of RG 216. It contains about 33 cubic feet of documents. The bulk of these documents were transferred from the Adjutant General's Office in February 1994.

Boxes 1-2 contain records of Expiration of Service from 1810 to 1903. This is an alphabetical record created on 1 ½ by 8 ½ inch strips of paper. The extracted information may contain name, rank, enlistment date, discharge date, and name of unit. The location of the original documents used to compile the information is unknown.

Boxes 3-5, containing Applications to Enlist, are original documents that include the name, birthplace, age, occupation, date of application, and some basic physical characteristics of the applicant. They are arranged alphabetically.

Boxes 6-19 include records arranged by specific units. Original order was maintained as much as possible while processing the individual units by brigade, regiment, company, etc. The researcher may find muster rolls, returns, rosters, payrolls, and any other routine reports pertaining to these specific units.

Boxes 12-18 comprise records of units that participated in the Spanish-American War of 1898. (There are also two important Spanish-American War items in Box 25. The Muster Out Rolls--Record of Events is a narrative of activity of the 1st-4th infantries from 1898 to 1899. The Report of Physical Examinations of the 2nd Infantry is a bound volume listing men who were examined for duty and shows those accepted and rejected.)

Boxes 20-25 contain an alphabetical arrangement of the remaining documents in this series. This is an artificial arrangement. These documents were found in random locations throughout this collection and have been rearranged alphabetically by subject. Larger subject groups were created: Civil War, Correspondence, Orders, Quartermaster, Receipts, and Reports. Items of particular importance in Box 20 are 15 folders of Civil War related documents. The papers in Box 20 are general correspondence and are arranged chronologically. Some of it pertaining to the Coal Creek

War (an armed miners' uprising) can be found in the 1892-1893 folder. Additional Coal Creek-related material, including telegrams, is found in Box 22. A Court of Inquiry was convened charging Col. Cater Woolford, Commander of the 3rd Infantry, with cowardice and incompetency as a result of the Coal Creek activity. A small amount of statistical information regarding the Mexican Border Campaign (1910-1919) can be found in Box 23. Box 25 contains valuable information on the Reelfoot Lake Night Riders operation of 1908. Included here are five reports of the action from different commanding officers. A substantial number of documents pertaining to the Quartermaster were gleaned from several boxes. These were united as Quartermaster's Records and are arranged alphabetically by subject. They are found in Boxes 23-24 and 29-30. The documents in Boxes 29-30 are oversize. They contain Quartermaster records pertaining to various units such as Requisitions for Stores and Annual Returns of Public Property.

Boxes 26-27 contain an index of citations for meritorious service. These documents are arranged alphabetically by type of decoration then by last name of the recipient. They are found on 5 x 8-inch cards and 4 x 6-inch cards.

Box 28 consists of petitions to the governor and state legislature requesting a veterans' bonus for service in World War II. The Veterans of Foreign Wars circulated the documents in 1948. They are arranged alphabetically by city.

Boxes 31-33 contain three oversize scrapbooks of newspaper clippings which are arranged chronologically.

Administrative/Biographical History

Historical Sketch of the Tennessee National Guard

The official military history of the State of Tennessee dates to June 1, 1796, when President George Washington signed the Act of Congress admitting Tennessee as the sixteenth state of the Union. But the actual military history of "The Volunteer State" dates to territorial days and the Revolutionary War.

The first recorded call for volunteers in Tennessee history is found in the records of Col. John Sevier, Washington County, Tennessee Territory, on March 19, 1780. He wanted "100 good men." Two hundred answered. In 1803, by Act of the General Assembly, the Militia of Tennessee was reorganized, and the Militia of Washington County became known as the "First Tennessee Regiment."

In 1812, the "First Tennessee," under the command of Col. William Hall, was sworn into Federal service on December 10, on orders of Gen. Andrew Jackson, and took part in the abortive expedition to Natchez, Mississippi Territory. (It is believed that on the return home his men gave Jackson the nickname "Old Hickory.") The infantry regiment designated "First Tennessee" did not follow a direct line of descent. It was organized and reorganized throughout the state's history. In 1814, when General Andrew Jackson was ready to march to New Orleans to fight the British under Lord Packenham, opportunities to enlist had been so eagerly sought that men paid bonuses for the privilege of volunteer service. It was during the War of 1812 that Tennessee earned the moniker "Volunteer State."

In 1813, the regiment was called into service by Brigade Order issued by Gen. Isaac Roberts, mobilized at Fayetteville, Lincoln County, and mustered into Federal service on September 26. It participated in battles at Talladega, Enitachopco, Tohopeka, and New Orleans. The Tennesseans performed gallantly at New Orleans, and were mustered out of Federal service May 13, 1815. Andrew Jackson was catapulted into the national spotlight because of his bold leadership during the battle.

In 1818, the First Tennessee Infantry reported at Fayetteville, Tennessee, under the command of Col. R. H. Dyer, and participated in numerous engagements during the First Seminole War.

In 1836, the First Tennessee fought in the Second Seminole War and the Cherokee War under the command of Col. A. M. Bradford. That June, the regiment assembled at Fayetteville, and on October 13, fought a battle on the Withlacoochee in Florida. Another battle was waged near the same place was on November 13. There were also battles in the Wahoo Swamp on November 18 and 21.

When war broke out with Mexico in 1846, Tennessean James K. Polk was president. Congress issued an immediate call for 50,000 volunteers. Tennessee's quota was 2,600, but 30,000 responded. All could not enlist so balloting and lotteries were resorted to in order to determine who would be accepted. The "campaigning" for this privilege was as sharply and seriously conducted among individuals as a race for high political office. In fact, three Tennessee veterans used their Mexican War experience as stepping stones to the governorship. One, William Bowen Campbell, was chosen regimental Colonel. It was during the Mexican War that the regiment earned its nickname: "The Bloody First."

By an act of the 45th General Assembly in 1887, the Tennessee State Guards were reorganized, and the First Regiment became known as the First Regiment of Infantry, Tennessee National Guard. This act followed more than a century of accomplishments. In 1892, the regiment served six months in Anderson County during the "Coal Creek War" over mining strike trouble. In 1898, the First Tennessee Infantry was called into action for service in the Philippine Islands, leaving Nashville on June 16, under command of Col. W. C. Smith. The First encountered brutal combat during the Philippine Insurrection, or Philippine War of Independence, arriving in time to take part in the battle of February 4, 1899. It also participated in the battles at Santa Mesa, Paco, Block House No. 14, Ilvile, Molo-Jaro, Mandurria, Oton, Nagloean, and El Pardo. Four Tennesseans won Congressional Medals of Honor during the rebellion and subsequent actions in the Philippines.

The regiment was called into service during the 1908 "Night Riders" trouble at Reelfoot Lake, serving under Col. W. C. Tatum for the emergency period of the civil disturbance. The Night Riders episode began as a dispute over titles to the lake and surrounding land. For seven months, actions became increasingly violent. Gov. Malcolm Patterson personally took charge and accompanied the First Tennessee to Obion County to quell the disorder.

The First Tennessee Infantry was called into service in 1916 during the U. S.-Mexican Border trouble set off by the Mexican Revolution. The regiment mobilized June 26, and was mustered into Federal service in July, just a few months after the bandit Pancho Villa ordered a cross-border raid into New Mexico. The First trained for duty at Eagle Pass, Texas, to thwart these types of incursions. The regiment returned to Tennessee and was preparing for mustering out of Federal service when the U. S. entered World War I. Col. Harry S. Berry commanded the regiment on the border and during World War I.

On September 8, 1917, the First Tennessee Infantry was converted into a regiment of Field Artillery, equipped with 115mm. howitzers and officially designated the 115th Field Artillery, 30th Infantry Division. The 30th was nicknamed the “Old Hickory Division” in honor of Andrew Jackson. The regiment served with distinction throughout the war and participated in engagements at St. Mihiel, Meuse-Argonne, and Troyon Sector. It returned to the United States on March 27, 1919, and was mustered out of Federal service at Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia, on April 15, 1919. The home state soldiers were welcomed home amid great fanfare.

The Third Tennessee Volunteers was mustered into Federal service October 8, 1847, and placed under command of Col. Benjamin Franklin Cheatham. Cheatham had served as a captain in the First Tennessee since the beginning of the war in 1846. (His papers are on deposit at the Tennessee State Library and Archives.)

During the War Between the States, the Third Regiment of Tennessee Infantry, U. S. A., was organized at Flat Lick Kentucky by Col. Leonidas C. Houck and Lt. John C. Childs in March 1862. This regiment took an active part in the Atlanta Campaign and in the battles before the city of Nashville. It was mustered out February 23, 1865. The Third Tennessee Infantry, Militia, was to continue in existence during the Spanish-American War and Philippine Insurrection, but saw no action. It was trained by Col. J. P. Fyffe.

In 1916, this regiment, having continued its identity as Tennessee Militia, was mobilized for action during the Mexican Border disturbance and returned in 1917, when it entered Federal service under its original designation, the Third Tennessee Infantry. Its designation was officially changed to the 117th Infantry by General Order No. 4, Headquarters, 39th Division, Camp Sevier, Greenville, South Carolina, on September 12, 1917. The regiment served as a part of the 30th Infantry Division in France, participating at Flanders, Ypres, Lys, the Somme Offensive, the Canal Sector, and assisted in breaking the Hindenburg Line.

When the Third Tennessee was called into Federal service for World War I, this left the state with no National Guard troops. Consequently, the Fourth Tennessee was organized, and became the state's only National Guard infantry regiment. At the close of World War I, the Third and Fourth Tennessee infantries amalgamated, and became known as the 117th Infantry Regiment.

When the Tennessee National Guard was mustered into World War I service in 1917, volunteers dominated the scene. The following major organizations available at the time were accepted for Federal service: one regiment of artillery, three regiments of infantry, and four troops of cavalry.

The First Tennessee Artillery was accepted into Federal service as the 114th Field Artillery, Col. Luke Lea commanding. The First Tennessee Infantry was converted into the 115th Field Artillery, Col. Harry S. Berry commanding. The Second Tennessee Infantry served temporarily as the Depot Brigade under Lt. Col. James A. Gleason. Later, most of the members of these regiments were transferred to the 119th and 120th North Carolina infantries, and became part of the 60th Brigade of the 30th National Guard Division that had a major role in the breaking the Hindenburg Line. The Third Tennessee Infantry became the 117th Infantry, Col. Cary F. Spence commanding. The cavalry troops were converted into the 114th Machine Gun Battalion, Maj. Perry Fyffe commanding. The 59th Brigade of the 30th Division was commanded by Brig. Gen. Lawrence D. Tyson of Tennessee.

During World War I, six Congressional Medals of Honor were awarded to Tennesseans. When the war was over, it was found that the 78,825 Tennesseans under arms had earned an impressive number of battle honors.

Tennesseans have played a part in all the principal wars America has fought since she became a sovereign nation: the Revolutionary War (1775-1783); War of 1812 (1812-1815); First Seminole War (1814-1819); Second Seminole War (1835-1842); Mexican War, (1846-1848); War Between the States (1861-1865); Spanish-American War (1898), Philippine Insurrection (1899-1902); World War I (1914-1918); World

War II (1941-1945), Korean War (1950-1953); and the Vietnam War from the mid 1950s until its end in 1975.
